A LETTER FROM THE DIRECTOR

It's high season in Pompano Beach and the Cultural Affairs Department has programs to meet the moment! Jazz Fest returns January 20-21 with an acclaimed line-up of jazz artists including headliners Spyro Gyra and six-time Grammy Award winner David Sanborn. VIP seats sold out quickly, but we have free general admission tickets available for both days.

Two outstanding exhibitions will be on display at the Cultural Center from January to April. Hello, I am Kitty showcases photos by Joana Toro. Featured in the New York Times, the Wall Street Journal and many other prestigious publications, Toro explores themes of identity as she captures provocative images of Times Square, through the eye hole of her Hello Kitty costume. Pandemic: The Unmasking of America highlights Craig Gordon's moving photography which reflects the differences between urban and rural experiences during the Covid pandemic.

Our dynamic Artists in Residence program at Bailey Contemporary Arts (BaCA) continue to make an impact on the community with monthly exhibitions during Old Town Untapped, interactive workshops, and exciting classes. We invite you to engage with these talented creatives and expand your artistic abilities!

We have a full roster of programs celebrating Black History Month that are highlighted on page 16. All are invited to learn about, witness, and celebrate the contributions of African-American artists past and present!

This is but a small sample of the great programs we offer. Please visit pompanobeacharts.org and follow us on social media to learn more. Thank you, and enjoy everything that Pompano Beach Arts has to offer, including our enviable weather this time of year!

Sincerely,

ARTIST IN RESIDENCE PROGRAM

2022-2023

Bailey Contemporary Arts
Artists in Residence (AiR) Program

The City of Pompano Beach Cultural Affairs Department delightfully relaunched its Artists in Residence (AiR) program at the historic Bailey Contemporary Arts Center (BaCA). The AiR Program provides artists with studio space to create new work, collaborate with fellow resident artists, and engage with our community.

This dynamic and diverse group of artists will be in residence through June, and we will present each as an "Artist of the Month," offering them the opportunity to showcase their work and create unique programs to attract art lovers to BaCA.

KIM FERGUSON
FEBRUARY
A!R
OF THE MONTH

Kim Ferguson creates sculptural and functional ceramic pieces that reflect her philosophy of eternal optimism in the face of chaos. Her work has been described as whimsical, vibrant, and feminine, and is informed by her life as a child in Jamaica and her immigration experience in South Florida. For her residency project, Ferguson will continue to create work that encourages viewers to examine their perspective on "negative" or "chaotic" circumstances. In addition to her typical studio techniques, she plans to employ molds and glass-work techniques and further explore her sculpted figures (called Divines), and the Plant Mama (sculpted plant pot) series. One piece in particular, Shark Week, will be fully realized during the residency and serve as the main 'high art' piece of the collected work.

OF THE MONTH

Gerard Pastor utilizes colored pencils to create stunning works of art inspired by the Lucumi religion, which survived the slave trade era. Often mired in secrecy and negative perceptions, the Afro-Caribbean faith serves as a creative force for Pastor who looks to inspire understanding. During his residency at BaCA, Pastor will focus his work on the study of how women participate in religion and how religion is used as a patriarchal tool to elevate men, when historically the innate power of survival has been through women.

Love, Loss and What I Wore

February 24: Love, Loss and What I Wore follows fragmented stories about the nostalgic power of women's clothing. A starry cast of seven women, enrobed in chic black, sit on stools and tell funny, wistful and universal memories about their families and loved ones through the prism of their closets. Like a long heart-to-heart with your best friend over coffee, the conversation meanders from a bitter-sweet story of a stepmother wearing the same style bathrobe as her husband's late wife (to the dismay of the children), to a couple's musings of what they wore on their wedding day, to a rant about loathing the need to carry a purse! With odes to black clothing, cowboy boots and outfits that makes mothers cringe, Love, Loss and What I Wore is unabashedly girly—in a good way. Based on the best-selling book by Nora Ephron and Delia Ephron.

Esther's Garden

October 28 - February 9: In 1975, acclaimed actress of stage and television, Esther Rolle, released an album entitled, "The Garden of My Mind." This album revealed a mind full of warmth and goodness. Growing up as the daughter of a Florida bean farmer, and the 10th of 18 children, Esther Rolle experienced love, sorrow, defeats and triumphs. On this album, she reflected and recreated those moments and common threads of human emotion. This exhibition celebrates the accomplishments of Pompano's native daughter with an eye on the "warmth and goodness" shared on her spoken word album.

POMPANO BEACH PUBLIC ART PROGRAM

Since the Public Art Committee's inception, which started in 2012, the City has acquired sculptures, murals, wrapped traffic boxes along roadways and most recently, a mural created by artist Andrew Reid SheD was installed at Bailey Contemporary Arts. The mural, entitled Legacy, was commissioned for the centennial anniversary of the building and celebrates the progression of this historic landmark from the original Bailey Hotel to BaCA as a continuing source of cultural and social enrichment for the Pompano Beach community. The bold and dynamic mural celebrates the stories of this significant location's iconic past and evolving present from depictions of the Florida East Coast Railway Streamliner, working people and small businesses within the storefronts, markets, and the surroundings of the native South Florida landscape to contemporary activities at BaCA including artist residencies, galleries, performing arts and public street activities and vendors. While you are viewing the mural, make sure to venture outside to Artists Alley, which currently features eight murals and is activated during Old Town Untapped. In the next few months, keep your eyes peeled to Old Town Pompano as a new mural, approximately 130 feet long, is soon to be installed!
